1960 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME HOUSTON 24, LA CHARGERS 16

January 1, 1961, at Houston. Attendance 32,183

One sensational play by rookie halfback Billy Cannon, the previous season's Heisman Trophy winner, was the difference, as the Houston Oilers defeated the Los Angeles Chargers 24-16 in the first AFL Championship Game.

The Chargers took the early lead on two field goals by the seemingly ancient Ben Agajanian, but former Bear George Blanda brought the Oilers back, throwing a 17-yard touchdown pass to Dave Smith and kicking an 18-yard field goal, which put Houston ahead 10-9 at halftime.

The teams exchanged touchdowns in the third quarter, with Blanda throwing a seven-yard scoring pass to Bill Groman and Chargers halfback Paul Lowe pounding over from the 2. So, early in the final period, the Oilers still led by a point. With a third-and-nine at the Houston 12, Blanda threw a short pass to Cannon, who broke a tackle and outran the Chargers' secondary to complete an 88-yard scoring play. In the final minute of the game, the Chargers - knowing they could tie and send the game into overtime due to the AFL's two-point conversion rule -- drove down the field, reaching the Houston 22. However, the Oilers held on fourth down for the title.
